TARIFF CLASSIFICATION OF ANTIMONY TRISULPHIDE

AGENCY: Bureau of Customs and Border Protection; Department of Homeland Security.

ACTION: Proposed revocation of a tariff classification ruling letter and revocation of treatment relating to the classification of antimony trisulphide.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to section 625(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1625(c)), this notice advises interested parties that Customs and Border Protection (CBP) is proposing to revoke one ruling letter relating to the tariff classification of antimony trisulphide under the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States Annotated (HTSUSA). CBP is also proposing to revoke any treatment previously accorded by it to substantially identical merchandise.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before March 24, 2006.

ADDRESS: Written comments are to be addressed to U.S. Customs and Border Protection, Office of Regulations & Rulings, Attention: Trade and Commercial Regulations Branch, 1300 Pennsylvania Avenue N.W., Washington, D.C. 20229. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:*BACKGROUND

On December 8, 1993, Title VI, (Customs Modernization), of the North American Free Trade Agreement Implementation Act (Pub. L. 103-182, 107 Stat. 2057) (hereinafter "Title VI"), became effective. Title VI amended many sections of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and related laws. Two new concepts which emerge from the law are "informed compliance" and "shared responsibility." These concepts are premised on the idea that in order to maximize voluntary compliance with customs laws and regulations, the trade community needs to be clearly and completely informed of its legal obligations. Accordingly, the law imposes a greater obligation on CBP to provide the public with improved information concerning the trade community's responsibilities and rights under the customs and related laws. In addition, both the trade and CBP share responsibility in carrying out import requirements. For example, under section 484 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. § 1484), the importer of record is responsible for using reasonable care to enter, classify and value imported merchandise, and provide any other information necessary to enable CBP to properly assess duties, collect accurate statistics and determine whether any other applicable legal requirement is met.

Pursuant to section 625(c)(1), Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1625(c)(1)), as amended by section 623 of Title VI, this notice advises interested parties that CBP is proposing to revoke one ruling letter pertaining to the tariff classification of antimony trisulphide. Although in this notice, CBP is specifically referring to the revocation of New York Ruling Letter (NY) R01069, dated December 8, 2004 (Attachment A), this notice covers any rulings on this merchandise which may exist but have not been specifically identified. CBP has undertaken reasonable efforts to search existing databases for rulings in addition to the one identified. No further rulings have been found. Any party who has received an interpretive ruling or decision (i.e., a ruling letter, internal advice memorandum or decision or protest review decision) on the merchandise subject to this notice should advise CBP during the notice period.

Similarly, pursuant to section 625(c)(2), Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1625(c)(2)), as amended by section 623 of Title VI, CBP is proposing to revoke any treatment previously accorded by CBP to substantially identical transactions. Any person involved in substantially identical transactions should advise CBP during this notice period. An importer's failure to advise CBP of substantially identical transactions or of a specific ruling not identified in this notice, may raise issues of reasonable care on the part of the importer or its agents for importations of merchandise subsequent to the effective date of the final decision on this notice.

In NY R01069, CBP ruled that antimony trisulphide was classified in subheading 2830.90.0000, HTSUSA, which provides for "Sulfides; polysulfides, whether or not chemically defined: Other." Since the issuance of that ruling, CBP has reviewed the classification of this item and has determined that the cited ruling is in error, and that the antimony trisulphide should be classified in subheading 2617.10.0000, HTSUS, which provides for "Other ores and concentrates: Antimony ores and concentrates."

Pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 1625(c)(1), CBP is proposing to revoke NY R01069 and any other ruling not specifically identified, to reflect the proper classification of antimony trisulphide according to the analysis contained in Headquarters Ruling Letter (HQ) 967661, set forth as Attachment B to this document. Additionally, pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 1625(c)(2), CBP is proposing to revoke any treatment previously accorded by CBP to substantially identical transactions. Before taking this action, we will give consideration to any written comments timely received.

RE: The tariff classification of Antimony Trisulphide (CAS# 1345-04-6)
from Italy

DEAR MR. HOFFACKER:

In your letter dated November 15, 2004, on behalf of your client, Asbury Graphite Mills, Inc., you requested a tariff classification ruling.

The applicable subheading for the Antimony Trisulphide will be 2830.90.0000, Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTS), which provides for Sulphides; polysulphides, whether or not chemically defined: Other. The rate of duty will be 3 percent ad valorem.

This ruling is being issued under the provisions of Part 177 of the Customs Regulations (19 C.F.R. 177).

A copy of the ruling or the control number indicated above should be provided with the entry documents filed at the time this merchandise is imported. If you have any questions regarding the ruling, contact National Import Specialist Debra Wholey at 646-733-3034.

RE: Revocation of New York Ruling Letter (NY) R01069, dated December 8, 2004; Classification of antimony trisulphide.

DEAR MR. HOFFACKER:

This is in response to your letter of April 7, 2005, in which you request reconsideration of New York Ruling Letter (NY) R01069, issued to your client Asbury Graphite Mills, Inc., on December 8, 2004, concerning the classification under the Harmonized Tariff Schedule of the United States (HTSUS) of antimony trisulphide. The antimony trisulphide was classified in subheading 2830.90.0000, HTSUS, which provides for "Sulphides; polysulphides, whether or not chemically defined: Other." You assert that because the merchandise at issue is antimony ore it is classified in subheading 2617.10.0000, HTSUS, which provides for "Other ores and concentrates: Antimony ores and concentrates." CBP has reviewed the classification of this item and has determined that the cited ruling is in error. In reaching this determination, we have also considered your submissions of January 25, 2006 and January 30, 2006.

FACTS:

The antimony trisulphide is stibnite which contains 1% quartz. It is mined in Italy in open-pit and under-ground mines. The ores have a medium-high concentration of Antimony Trisulphide (40-60%). To separate the Antimony Trisulphide from gangue, ores are enriched using the typical mining method of ore-flotation process, in which the ores are crushed and powders are agitated with water containing a foaming agent and an agent to make the Antimony bearing particles water-repellent. These particles accumulate in the froth on the surface of the flotation tank, and this froth is skimmed off. The concentrates (65–69% Antimony Trisulphide) are dried and then grinded, using a hammer mill, to requested granulometry. The final product is bagged in 25 kg paper bags. The antimony trisulphide is imported to be sold to manufacturers of brake pads.

ISSUE:

Whether the antimony trisulphide is classified as a sulfide or polysulfide of heading 2830, HTSUS, or as an antimony ore or concentrate of heading 2617, HTSUS.

LAW AND ANALYSIS:

Classification of goods under the HTSUSA is governed by the General Rules of Interpretation (GRI). GRI 1 provides that classification shall be determined according to the terms of the headings of the tariff schedule and any relative section or chapter notes. In the event that the goods cannot be classified solely on the basis of GRI 1, and if the headings and legal notes do not otherwise require, the remaining GRI may then be applied. The Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System Explanatory Notes (EN), constitute the official interpretation of the Harmonized System at the international level. While neither legally binding nor dispositive, the EN provide a commentary on the scope of each heading of the HTSUSA and are generally indicative of the proper interpretation of the headings.

Heading 2617, HTSUS, provides for “Other ores and concentrates.” The E.N. to heading 2617, HTSUS, provides the following in relevant part:

The principal ores generally classified in this heading are:

(1) Antimony ores.

(d) Stibnite (or antimonite), antimony sulphide

Chapter Note 2 to Chapter 26, HTSUS, provides the following:

For the purposes of headings 2601 to 2617, the term “ores” means minerals of mineralogical species actually used in the metallurgical industry for the extraction of mercury, of the metals of heading 2844 or of the metals of Section XIV or XV, even if they are intended for non-metallurgical purposes. Headings 2601 to 2617 do not, however, include minerals which have been submitted to processes not normal to the metallurgical industry.

Heading 2830, HTSUS, provides for “Sulfides; polysulfides, whether or not chemically defined.” The E.N. to heading 2830, HTSUS, states that the heading covers metal sulphides including:

* * *

(9) Antimony sulphides.

The antimony trisulphide at issue is an ore which is intended for non-metallurgical purposes, i.e, brake pads. However, it is also a mineralogical species actually used in the metallurgical industry. Chapter Note 2 to Chapter 26, HTSUS, states that ores include minerals of mineralogical species actually used in the metallurgical industry for the extraction of mercury, of the metals of heading 2844 or of the metals of Section XIV or XV, even if they are intended for non-metallurgical purposes. Thus, the use of antimony trisulphide for brake pads does not disqualify it from classification in Chapter 26, HTSUS. The processing the antimony trisulphide undergoes, namely simple froth flotation, is a physical process of mineral segregation that does not result in any chemical or physical change to the either the ore or the gangue. The antimony trisulphide remains the same throughout its processing, packaging, and utilization in applications to which it is applied. The molecular and crystallographic structure and form are not altered in any way. As it has not been chemically modified, classification in heading 2830, HTSUS, is precluded. Pursuant to GRI 1, the antimony trisulphide is classified in heading 2617, HTSUS.

HOLDING:

NY R01069, dated December 8, 2004, is hereby revoked.

The antimony trisulphide is classified in subheading 2617.10.0000, HTSUS, which provides for "Other ores and concentrates: Antimony ores and concentrates." The general column one rate of duty is Free.
